

So I'm little behind on this blog post but what the heck better late than never.

The first Joomla Milwaukee was huge success big thanks to everyone for coming out and to our food sponsor Arc Technology Group for putting yummy food in our bellies. It was really great meeting everyone and networking.

We have tentative speakers for the next meeting lined up and topics should be announced soon. Here are some of the topics you had all suggested from the survey:

Search Engine Optimization

Joomla Extension Development Intro

Community Building

Best Development, Deployment and Updating Practices for Joomla Sites

Joomla Problem Solving & Resources

Popular Component Specific User Tips and Demos

Joomla 1.6 Demos and what is coming in 1.6

I personally loved the suggestions and can't wait to see some of the future presentations myself. Feel free to leave additional suggestions below.

Lately I have been playing around with syncing users and CB info between multiple completely separate sites that have different databases. In the past there has not been much luck but I have been taking a strong look at Jfusion now which looks like it might have an answer for my issue. I am also going to be looking into building multiple sites on a single Joomla db. The idea being if I have multiple sites a single update will update them all. Currently these are more side projects to the pace may be slow but I will keep everyone updated on my progress.
